Stockholm, Sweden and New Jersey, USA

June 28, 2004

Eurostep Commercial Solutions AB and Coensys, Inc sign partnership agreement.

Eurostep Commercial Solutions has signed a partnership agreement with the US-based company Coensys. The companies will jointly offer solutions based on Eurostep's Share-A-space in the PLM and engineering supply chain area. Both companies have a business focus in high tech industries like defense, aerospace and automotive.

The interest for Share-A-space is growing in the US, says Gordon Ishammar, Director of Sales, Eurostep Commercial Solutions. It is obvious that our software has unique features very much coming from STEP and PLCS as the foundation of Share-A-space. With Share-A-space the existing systems can remain inside the companies and we will add value with Share-A-space based on the rich and neutral data model and the information consolidation made available. We are currently investing in building up a network of partners with a good knowledge in key areas such as shared data environments and PLM and we are very pleased to announce the partnership with Coensys, ends Mr. Ishammar.

Share-A-space encompasses features I have not seen before and it is one of the most innovative and comprehensive PLM software I have come across lately, says Dr. Bipin Chadha, President and CEO of Coensys. Share-A-space solution will significantly enhance the ability to manage product data over the lifecycle and enable OEMs and Lead Systems Integrators to exchange product data with suppliers and customers. I have been following Eurostep, STEP, and PLCS activities over the years and now they have finally delivered a comprehensive standards based solution that will revolutionize product information exchange. The depth and breadth of product modeling concepts implemented is impressive, ends Dr. Chadha.
